

The Recent Elections.

The late elections in the State of Oregon and the Territory of Nebraska and Washington reveal some facts which the Union party will do well to notice, viz: that the party is losing ground in these places, and this is true, not only of these sections of country, but of all the frontier States and Territories.

Certainly the men and measures supported by the opposition party here are not any better calculated to secure votes than those of the same party East. What then is the cause of this change in public sentiment? We are of the opinion that it may all be attributed to the neglect of the party in power to properly attend to the Territorial, or rather the Western interests.

In Congress, the Committee on Territories is regarded as an important one, and is generally filled by men of medium ability. The territorial appointments have not always been of the most judicious nature, although we will say that the present party has made a vast improvement on the old Democratic administration in this respect. Yet even now the management of our Indian affairs, which require the greatest executive tact and ability, is often entrusted in very incompetent hands.

The murder of a party of miners or traders in some distant Territory is passed by with the remark that "such is frontier life." It is true that at one time it was impossible for the Government to extend adequate protection throughout all its territory, but now that private enterprise is capable of establishing and maintaining stage and telegraphic communication over the length and breadth of the land, it does seem as though the Government should be able to extend the same protection to settlers in the territories that it does to negroes and Northern speculators in the South.

Let one of them be killed by secessionists and it creates more of a sensation at Washington than the murder of twenty frontiersmen by Indians. All regulations for troops are promptly filled, but let Idaho or Montana ask for a single regiment when their citizens are being murdered by Indians daily, and they are told that there are none to spare. The last number of the Idaho Index, in speaking of Indian troubles, gives the following significant paragraph, which serves as a very good illustration of affairs in the Territories:

"If some protection is not extended, more than has been, from present appearances it does seem that a part of the country will have to be abandoned—and large fertile, as well as rich mineral, portions remain undiscovered."

The authorities at Washington undoubtedly intend to work for the interests of the Territories, but neglecting to post themselves on our affairs, they do not seem to understand our true wants. It is all very well for Congressional delegations to make us visits and favor us with pretty speeches. We are glad to receive them, but we would like to have a little good, sound practical legislation in behalf of our interests as a result of these visits. We would, also, like to see a change in the Indian policy. We want the Indian taught to understand that the Government is able and willing to punish his misdeeds; let him once become convinced of this and there will be no further trouble. It is true that our citizens could turn out en masse and chastise them, and if they did so it would require but a small force to repeat the operation; but the interest of the country would suffer if labor should be thus diverted from its legitimate channels.

From Idaho.

The Statesman of the 14th gives the following items of interest:

The Idaho City Theatre is running and doing well. The quartet and piano music about Idaho City are paying well. Governor Ballou arrived at Boise on the 13th. It is said that Ex-Gov. Lyon's famous letter of March 13th was written just two weeks after he had subscribed and paid to the volunteer fund to equip the company against the Indians. $500. The latest accounts from the Oregon election leave the result still doubtful, though the probabilities are in favor of the Union ticket by about two hundred and fifty majority. So say passengers by last night's stage. There is not much doing at Rocky Bar. The mills are all idle.

The Avalanche of the 15th has the following:

The New York, Enterprise, Caspas and Jackson mills are starting up.

GOING NORTH.—Company F, Captain Perry, 1st United States Cavalry, left Camp Union at noon yesterday for Fort Boise, Idaho.

"GREENBACK."—A Philadelphia company, named as above, will be at work in Owyhee soon.

Meas. Moore & Fugus cleaned up bullion during the present week to the amount of $13,500.

Tanks have been quite an excitement in Montague and vicinity. Six or eight boys and girls, 16 or 18 years of age, have taken themselves to the woods on Mount Toby, where they lived in Mormon style, appropriating to themselves and passing sugar houses and other things. The people turned out and secured the woods and arrested the youthful Mormons. The girls were let off with a spring and the boys sent to S. Goddard, Esq., and placed under his supervision in the future. —Hampshire, Mass. Express.

From the Pahrangat District.

(Correspondence of the S. F. Bulletin.)

Pahrangat, June 2, 1886.

This mining district, discovered about one year ago, is located about 120 miles nearly due north from the head of navigation on the Colorado, from which point it is easily accessible by a good natural wagon road. The Governor of Utah, who was here a short time ago, claimed jurisdiction over the district as being located just within the southwestern bounds of the Territory of Utah; but the bill recently passed by Congress enlarging the boundaries of the State of Nevada, places not only this district but the territory bordering the head of navigation on the Colorado, within the limits of that State.

SEARCHING FOR GOLD.

Your correspondent came with a party of prospectors which left San Francisco in March last, in search of that fabulous rich and decidedly mythical gold mine which has lured into useless hardship and expense, during the last three years, a number of expeditions from Austin and San Francisco, and which is imaginatively located within a short distance of Furnace Creek, in the lower end of Death's Valley, and called the Breyfogle ledge. For a long time fabulous reports have been in circulation in California of exceedingly rich pieces of quartz picked up by some of the earlier emigrants to the State by the Southern route. In the vicinity of Death's Valley, and all of the old California gold fields, to which the mysterious "Black Lodge," in the vicinity of Los Angeles were accustomed at intervals, clandestinely to report, accompanied by a few faithful Indians, and after a short absence to return with burrs laden with silver.

MINING PROSPECTS AND OPERATIONS.

But very little work has been done in the mines of this District, although numerous locations have been made, and the District has been long enough discovered to have been well tested. The miners here attribute the slow progress they have made in developing their ledges to the scarcity and high price of supplies. Explosives and tools are scarce and high, and everybody is anxiously awaiting the regular opening of navigation on the Colorado. I have never seen in any mineral District such rich and extensive outcroppings; and while the rich prospects found on numberless outcroppings are without doubt mere accidental deposits, some of the ledges, or rather lodes, indicate an abundance and permanency of rich ores. The Illinois ledge presents a huge outcrop almost its entire length which will pay for working in mass. Seams of very rich ore, containing lead and antimony in different forms, intersect the rock frequently, and so general is the diffusion of paying ore that the rock will probably be worked without separation. The Virgin Silver lode presents a large mass of rich ore on the surface. From this lode I have seen fragments of rock, weighing as high as 1,000 pounds, thrown off by gads and levers, that will pay, by working in mass, several hundred dollars to the ton. All through the rock of this lode virgin silver is found, together with a rich saltpetre of silver alloyed with a small amount of antimony and lead. The ore, although not of the most docile character, is yet capable of being worked easily by roasting, and is rich enough to bear a heavy percentage of loss and a costly mode of reduction.

Some two or three companies organized in the East have commenced operations here. A few months will demonstrate whether the extraordinarily rich surface rock maintains its bulk and richness beneath the surface. If it does, then this is destined to be one of the richest mining districts ever discovered. The mineral district is about three miles in length, from north to south, by two miles in breadth—Silver Mountain, on which the principal claims are located, occupying a central position. Wood is abundant, water scarce. The mines are located in the Pahrangat range of mountains, which form the western boundary of the valley of the same name, and are 50 miles distant from the nearest Mormon settlements. The new town to be built at the head of navigation, on the Colorado, is the natural point of supplies, not only for this district but for nearly all Utah, the southern part of Nevada and northern Arizona. I know of no interior city so favorably situated to command an extensive trade as the town of Callville, or whatever the embryonic city may be termed. Its location insures an extensive and permanent business.

THE CLIMATE.

The climate here is represented to us by the older settlers to be mild and pleasant the year round. As yet we have no means of estimating our altitude above the sea level, but that we are at a considerable elevation is evidenced by the fact that on the 25th ult. the snow fell to a depth of 6 inches.

INTERESTING MILITARY EXPEDITION.

The Virginia City Enterprise of June 12th says:

Through the kindness of Captain and Brevet Major D. J. Williams, U. S. A., Chief Quartermaster for the expedition, on Gen. Halleck's staff, we are enabled to furnish the following particulars concerning the inspecting tour of the Department of the Pacific: Major General Halleck and staff, with Major General McDowell and staff, will leave San Francisco for Virginia on Wednesday next, arriving here on Friday morning. Gen. McDowell will inspect the military posts of this District while Gen. Halleck will proceed to Sand Springs, from whence, through preparations already made by Major Williamson, they will proceed to Boise City, Idaho, under an escort of 100 men; thence attend to affairs in a military throughout that region; proceed to Montana and Washington Territories, and down the Columbia river to Fort Vancouver, where the United States steamer Saginaw will await their arrival to convey them through Puget Sound, and perhaps the expedition may go as far as Kamahtha. The round trip will occupy four or five months. Joy goes with the parties connected, as they won their laurels on the tented field.

The Western coach that came in Wednesday brought General Halleck to Star City, 200 miles this side of Virginia.

SECRETARY McCULLOUGH's plan for a new five per cent loan, having fifty years to run, falls favor with the Senate Finance Committee, and will probably be adopted by them.

(Correspondence of the S. F. Bulletin.)

Helena, M. T., June 11.

The world-mover and civilization-advancer. The water-sprinkler personality, our mountain-people, the bluish-splendor adorning fences and blank walls with his "Great Attractions," and the boot-black at his pavilion (1) flourish his brush and harangues the passer-by as to the desirability of a two-bit shoe. The old mountaineer, as he gives his buckskin pants a hitch, expresses his deprecation of the innovations and at the same time maliciously reproaches that a month of almost constant rain has prevented these "self-risers," with be-bustled pant-bottoms, and also these "States fellows," who desire to put, on style, from availing themselves, to any great extent, of the adornment at the bestowal of the blacking-brush, and from appreciating the blessings following in a sprinkler's rear. His delight is to see the new-comers shine in an occasional snow flurry, and put on their overcoats at the sight of the whitened ranges in the distance.

Speaking of quartz, we may mention that Col. Keyser has recently had ten assays made on the New York extension of the Big, or Cruson, or Cliff lead, as you choose, call it—fire of the assays averaging $28, and fire $76.70 the ton. Considering the enormous width of the crevice and the ease with which the rock can be worked, this is considered quite encouraging.

Despite unfavorable weather, the performances of the Irwins have been well attended. We have been unable to witness but one, that of "Camille," but from that one entertainment we derived sufficient pleasure for a week. Improvements are going on very rapidly; some buildings, new fronts and mammoth signs seem to spring up in the night time almost; but we cannot notice them in each letter as they come into existence. We may, at some future time, give a detailed account of the principal alterations effected. We are surprised that your Benton correspondent says that someone alone seem to be doing a flourishing business. A more extended inquiry would have resulted in a very different expression of opinion.

The town is full of strangers, outsiders predominating, and Californians who came here expecting to see no one they knew, find they are acquainted with nearly every other man.

The street mining has been discontinued near the old City Hotel, and bids fair to find a second edition of itself in operations just commenced opposite the post-office.

Of Benton news we shall give barely a summary, leaving the furnishing of particulars to your correspondent at the head of navigation. On the evening of the 31st inst. the steamers Marcella and Ontario arrived at the former, with thirteen and the latter with thirty-eight passengers, among them General Meagher's lady, Judges Hooper and Williston and their families, and D. W. Tilton (of the Post) with his lady. The steamer Big Horn was reported some forty miles below, and doubtless arrived on the 7th inst., making the ninth boat up. Everything is actively at the old trading post, trains loaded from morning till night, and hundreds of tons of freight awaiting transportation on the levee. The Ontario passed thirteen boats this side of Union.

It seems that Little Dog and his son were killed by a detached band of the Piagans, who, after they had committed the bloody deed, returned to the camp of the tribe and reported their chief killed by the whites. They were taken into custody, and at last accounts, five of them, including Isidore, the half-breed, were about to be hanged by order of the principal chiefs of the main tribe.

Almost a fire occurred at the International Hotel, on the night of the 9th inst. One of those infernal stove pipes that people, sane on other points, will persist in running through their roofs, became sufficiently hot to set fire to the shingles, and our town, for the half-dozen time, this year, escaped annihilation.

EVERYWHERE.

June 4th.—Steamer Big Horn, with twenty passengers, seventy-one days from St. Louis, arrived at Benton on the 6th inst. The W. B. Dance arrived on the 8th inst. The Only Chance, Amelia and Goldfinch have probably arrived on this, and a number of others are daily expected.

Judges Hooper and Williston arrived here in Helena on the 12th inst. On the 5th inst., two unarmed whites were shot by Indians (supposed to have been Blackfeet) about ten miles north of McClellan Gulch. One was killed, the other seriously wounded. The Indians have recently been quite troublesome in that locality.

From California.

(From the Enterprise.)

San Francisco, June 16.

The North American Steamship Co.'s steamer America, which left San Juan del Sur June 2d, where she connected with the Santiago de Cuba from New York May 29th, arrived here at 10 this morning.

General Sherman's agent yesterday refused two thousand dollars per foot for forty-two feet of ground on the corners of Clay and Montgomery streets.

Fears are entertained for the safety of the Bremen bark Libelle, which sailed hence January 19th for Hongkong—Among her passengers from Honolulu were Madame Anna Bishop, Messrs. Schmitz, Lascelles, Van Reed and Kiebre.
